

BCTR STUDENT SHOWCASE

The BCTR offers students across campus the opportunity to learn about and participate in research techniques, data collection, and analysis as research assistants. This event showcases their work with the BCTR.

Evaluation of Evidence-Based Programs for Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention in NY State

Christine Heib, HBHS '12
Molly Glantz, HD '12
ACT for Youth

Recovery from Non-Suicidal Self-Injury (NSSI): A Qualitative, Exploratory Study of Benchmarks

Rebecca Morgan, HD '13
Patricia Rothenberg, HD, '13
Stephanie Shea, B&S '12
Cornell Research Program on Self-Injurious Behaviors

Keeping Youth Engaged: A Qualitative Study of Factors that Promote/Deter Active Participation in Urban After-School Programs

Helen Badu, BS '12
Caroline Gross, B&S '12
Lily Picon, B&S/Spanish '13
The Complementary Strengths Research Project

The Independent Living Survey Project: Identifying the Scope and Nature of Youth Homelessness in Tompkins County

Michael Smith, BS/FGSS '12
Christine Heib, HBHS '12
ACT for Youth

Assessing the Efficacy of the Friend2Friend Program

Maggie Diu, HD '13
Akane Otani, Eng/Psych '14
Stephanie Shea, B&S '12
Cornell Research Program on Self-Injurious Behavior

Recommendations for Future Research in Pain Disparities among Older Adults

Meghan McDarby, HD '14
Jessie Boas, Soc '13
Cornell Institute for Translational Research on Aging
Translational Research Institute on Pain in Later Life

Non-Suicidal Self-Injury across the Lifespan

Stephanie Shea, B&S '12
Cornell Research Program on Self-Injurious Behavior

www.bctr.cornell.edu

Monday, May 7, 2012

12:00 - 1:30pm

Beebe Hall conference room

Lunch will be served

open to all